HAYNE LOSES FIRST ROUND IN THE WATER SUIT

Consumes Time With Technical Obstructions--The Expert Costs Piling Up.

Mr. Hayne got himself in a bad box yesterday afternoon in the trial of the water case. He questioned W. A. M. Bokkelen, one of the city's experts about the map book of the Contra Costa Water Company, but refused to put the book itself in evidence. He drew out the fact that witness had examined the book and found it to contain certain diagrams showing the lands and water rights of the Company, plans of the reservoirs, filtration and pumping plants and maps of the pipe lines, tunnels, etc. Witness professed to be unable to understand these colored drawings, and Hayne wanted the court to inspect them privately but not judicially.

McCutcheon insisted that if the Hon. examined the book it must first be placed in evidence. It was proffered, he said, for the court to take cognizance of something that was not in evidence. So Hayne had to withdraw.

HAYNE IN A BAD BOX.

On cross-examination, however, McCutcheon offered the book in evidence. Hayne promptly objected, but McCutcheon showed from the reporter's notes that witness had described the book, stated what it contained and enumerated the pages on which the plans, maps and diagrams were, which consequently made it admissible. Judge Hart ruled that it was clearly admissible under the rules of evidence. Then Hayne pleaded the belly act. He said he had drawn on the witness more fully than he intended and had unwittingly done his case an injury.

HAYNE PLEADS THE BABY ACT.

Therefore he begged the court to let him strike out portions of his own evidence. Moore said he never before heard of an attorney moving to have his own testimony stricken out to shut off cross-examination.

Hayne plaintively insisted, saying it would work a hardship on his client, but McCutcheon replied: "We invoke rule of law and invoke it especially against Judge Hayne that every man is supposed to know law and must abide by the squires of his own acts."

Hayne plaintively begged the question further, and Judge Hart finally granted his request, with the statement that it was most unusual proceeding and not sanctioned by the rules of practice.

A MARIE'S NEST EXPOSED.

It came out during the examination of Van Bokkelen that when the Oakland Water Company was consolidated with the Contra Costa Company the books of both corporations were destroyed and a new set opened. He was informed when he asked to inspect them. His demand for an inspection of the stock ledgers, minute books and certificate book was refused on the ground that they were not account books and showed nothing of the business of the company with the public, being merely a record of the transactions of the corporation with its stock holdings.

ONLY A GALLERY PLAY.

After Hayne's impasse statement that the case of the city could not be presented because the company had refused inspection of its books containing descriptions of all its property, it developed that the city's attorney had a complete list of the Company's property and that their experts had made an examination of the same. It was incidentally brought out that the map book contained a complete description of all the real property of the Company and was the only book in which such description was kept. Inspection of it had been freely offered, consequently the whole afternoon was wasted in tedious wrangle over a very small matter. Under guise of having witness to testify that he had been refused such inspection, Hayne attempted a rambling examination to bring out other matters. The court indulged him to a considerable extent, but finally ruled him out of order.

A BIG BILL OF COSTS.

If the proceedings of yesterday are an index to the trial the case will consume months and pile up a tremendous bill of costs. By agreement the reporters make three transcripts of the evidence daily—one for the Judge and one each for the counsel on each side. This of itself is a big item, and the loser of the suit will have to foot the entire bill. When the fees of an army of witnesses and experts are added it will be seen that the trial will involve heavy expense.

THIS MORNING.

When court opened this morning Hayne renewed his effort to go into a general examination of witness Van Bokkelen regarding various conversations he had with officers of the Water Company when he went to inspect the books of the corporation. Mr. McCutcheon objected because the only issue before the Court was whether or not the defense had been refused permission to inspect a book containing descriptions of the property of the corporation.

It must be borne in mind that the present hearing is not a trial of the case proper, but is to determine whether the order of inspection granted by the Court had not been complied with.

Hayne is trying to prevent the company from proving what property it possesses on the ground that the order of inspection was not compiled with. The company's attorneys contend that there was no violation of the order.

BURNING THE OLD BOOKS.

Judge Hart finally permitted witness to detail all the conversation he had with the officers of the company. On the 1st of July President Watkinson informed him that, after the two companies were consolidated, he found the vaults and offices of the company filled with a lot of old books, papers, reports, etc., which

MINISTERS TO DETERMINE PUNISHMENT

Conger Instructed to Take Steps Toward Settlement.

French Note Involves Some Complex Questions.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The British government has followed in the footsteps of the United States in the Chinese negotiations. It has authorized Sir Claude MacDonald, the British Minister at Peking, to enter into relations with the Chinese officials, just as our Government has in the case of Mr. Conger. It has left to its Minister discretionary power to pass upon the sufficiency of the credentials of Li Hung Chang, Prince Ching and the other Chinese envoys. Although the formal response to the last German proposition has not been returned by Lord Salisbury, the United States Government has been informed that, though such an answer may not be made at all, being unnecessary in the light of recent developments, yet Sir Claude MacDonald will be instructed to make the same inquiries relative to the punishment of the Chinese ringleaders, that have been committed to Mr. Conger.

The first practical outcome of Special Commissioner Rockhill's investigation has been an instruction to him by the State Department to co-operate with Minister Conger in the inquiries with which that official is now charged, relative to the character of the Chinese enemies and punishments.

The next step toward the final settlement of the Chinese troubles must come from Mr. Conger and his brother Minister.

They are charged now with inquiries into the matter of punishments, which certainly will occupy some time, and it is not expected that much headway will be made in other directions until this phase of the case has been passed.

The latest French note is a distinct movement toward the initiation of negotiations for a settlement, while the question of punishment is still pending. It is probable that exchanges will take place with the French note as the basis, while the Ministers at Peking are at work under their instructions upon the subject of punishments, but even though some advance is made with the French note, it is not likely, in the judgment of the officials, that all of the complex questions involved therein can be agreed upon by the powers before Mr. Conger and the other Ministers are ready to report upon their branch of the case.

Touching the French proposals, the officials here have already received intimations that the Chinese government is preparing to offer strenuous objections to some of them, notably to the proposition looking to the razing of the Taku forts and the interdiction of the importation of firearms. It is believed, however, that the Imperial government will make an earnest effort to meet the demand of the powers respecting the punishments.

The news that Yung Lu is not to be forced upon the Peace Commission is well received here as indicating the readiness of the Chinese government to heed any reasonable remonstrance from the powers.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The following official note was issued this afternoon:

"The Foreign Minister has instructed the representatives of France to sound the powers whose troops are now operating with ours in the extreme East regarding the adoption of a common program for Northern China. The representatives acquitted themselves of their mission and left with the various foreign Ministers a copy of the following note:

"In sending their forces to China, the powers proposed, first of all, to deliver their legations. Thanks to their union and the valor of their troops, this aim has been attained. It is now a question of securing from the Chinese government, which has given Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang full powers to negotiate and treat in its name, suitable reparation for the past and serious guarantees for the future. Penetrated with the spirit which inspired the previous declarations of the different governments, the government of the Republic believes it sums up their real sentiments in the following points which it submits as a basis for negotiations to be entered upon immediately after the usual verification of the powers:

"First.—The punishment of the principal culprits who will be designated by the representatives of the powers at Peking.

"Second.—The maintenance of the prohibition of the import of arms.

"Third.—Equitable indemnities to states, societies and individuals.

"Fourth.—The formation of a permanent guard for the Peking legation.

"Fifth.—The dismantlement of the fortifications.

"Sixth.—The military occupation of two or three points on the road from Tien Tsin to Peking, which would thus always be open to the legations wishing to go to the sea or to forces proceeding to Peking from the sea.

"Presented collectively by the representatives of the powers at Peking.

ASKED NO EXPLANATION.

"Did you ask any officer of the company to explain anything in this book?"
"No."

"Did you ask for any information as to what it contained?"
"No."

"Did you ask if this book contained a list of the company's property?"
"No. I asked for a list of the property, and they showed me this map-book. I didn't understand it."

"Then you did not ask the company's officers to explain anything in this book or to give you any information that

ITALIANS ATTACKED BY WOMEN

Stones and Clubs Used on Miners Who are at Work.

Fears That Foreigners May Clash With the Police.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

HAZELTON, Pa., Oct. 5.—Eight Italians employed on the night shift at the Calvin Pardee & Co. colliery at Lattinger were attacked on the way to Hoytwood this morning by 100 women, mostly Hungarians and Italians from Milnesville. A few women were arrested with clubs, but most of them carried stones in their aprons. The eight Italians saw the women on the road ahead of them and crossed a field to avoid them. The women also crossed the field and overtaking the men hurled stones at them. The men ran and were soon out of the reach of the women. One man received a severe cut on the head, while several others were struck by stones.

There was to have been a march of women and men from McAdoo and Jeanville to Lattinger early this morning, but for some reason it was called off at midnight. It may be made tomorrow.

Some of the foreigners are showing an ugly disposition. They are seen in greater numbers on the highways, and as some of them carry clubs a collision between them and the Coal and Iron Police may occur at any time. There is no material change today in the number of men at work in this region.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 5.—Early today the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company reconsidered its determination to close down the North Franklin colliery at Trevorton until after the strike is settled. Foreman Luckenbill was notified to inform the men the colliery would be run as usual today. When the whistle was blown not over a dozen miners appeared on the streets in their working clothes. They were stopped by other men who had worked yesterday. After a little persuasion all the miners returned home, saying they would not go into the mines until the trouble was ended. The strikers' demonstration against the colliery yesterday by 1,000 Mount Carmel men caused the North Franklin employees to quit, notwithstanding the presence at the colliery of over 400 deputies and Coal and Iron Police, armed with Winchester rifles. It is likely an attempt will be made to resume at the colliery in a day or two. Everything has quieted down between here and Mount Carmel, and there is no evidence today of the excitement cast last night by the Mount Carmel marchers.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Confirmation was received at the offices of the Reading Company today of the closing down of the North Franklin colliery in the North Schuylkill region. This closes every one of the thirty-nine Reading collieries, and not a pound of coal is being mined by that company today. The normal shipment from the mines to tide-water points is from 25,000 to 30,000 tons each day.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Oct. 5.—The striking mine workers here are making preparations for a demonstration tomorrow similar to that which took place in Wilkesbarre. President Mitchell has sent word from Hazelton that he will come here tomorrow and address an open air meeting to be held by the strikers. Other officials of the Mine Workers also are expected. Invitations have been extended to the mine workers throughout the region, and it is expected that 10,000 men and boys will participate.

Edward Coyle, one of the victims of the mine riot two weeks ago, died today. While the riot was in progress Mr. Coyle left his home to look after the safety of his children, when a stray bullet struck him below the heart.

OPERATORS' ULTIMATUM.

Strike Will Be Fought Out If Men Do Not Accept Concessions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Evening Post says: President Maxwell of the Jersey Central and the president of another coal carrying railway, who declined to be quoted for publication, made the definite announcement today that no further concessions would be granted to the striking miners, and that if they did not accept the 10 per cent offered the strike would be fought out.

It is supposed this decision was reached at a joint meeting of coal railway presidents and operators, which was held at the Lehigh Valley offices in this city last evening.

HAZELTON, Pa., Oct. 5.—President Mitchell when shown a dispatch today in which an officer of a political organization was quoted as saying the anthracite coal miners' strike was planned by Mr. Johnson of the National Democratic Committee, the Mayor of Indianapolis and himself at a recent meeting at Indianapolis, said he was reluctant to believe that the gentleman quoted had made the charge, and stated positively that the story was untrue. He said he did not know Mr. Johnson and had never held a conversation with him or any Mr. Taggart in his life.

President Mitchell said that any man who would inaugurate strikes in the interest of any political organization would be deserving of the severest punishment that could be meted out, and that any person who would make political capital out of the suffering of men, women and children in the anthracite region would be unworthy of the privilege of citizenship.

Why an Assistant to Charles Ott Was Appointed.

From concur with the work of the City Street Superintendent's office is not surprised at the appointment of a deputy superintendent.

After the retirement of Mr. Miller and the promotion of Mr. Ott to the office of Street Superintendent, the position of deputy was left by Mr. Ott's promotion to no filled. The Auditor's estimate provides for a deputy at $125 per month but under the present system of economy Mr. Ott has been performing his own duties as superintendent and in addition to

With his multifarious duties it has been a physical impossibility for him to look carefully after the laying of sidewalks, the back-filling of sewers, etc., and this work has been relegated to a certain amount of time with the work of the Pacific Avenue and Adeline streets and the general cleaning of streets, gutters, and storm drains, the laying of crosswalks, etc., preparatory to the rainy season the appointment of a deputy was considered imperative. Mr. Ott was a deputy under the administration of Street Superintendent Harrison.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT CAUSES DISCORD.

Mrs. Margarette Elkins, the deceased wife of N. C. Elkins, is looking for a place which she claims she owned and was removed from her home without her consent.

She bore out a search warrant and found that the piano had been purchased by George Elkins and his son, and referred to the master Mr. Elkins this morning.

A search warrant was not necessary for Mrs. Elkins that she had been defrauded. She had only a few dollars in her pocket. She had sold a piano on it of a broken down piano. Being unable to repay the loan he sold the piano to the broker and gave an order for the piano to be returned. He bought it for a bit of the same and now wants to get his money back. There transactions occur very frequently. Mrs. Elkins knew the piano was moved for either her or her family permitted it to go on the order.

Elkins was sentenced to thirty days in the city prison for robbing money under false pretenses and will be released on the 7th.

ASKS Pointed Questions.
A card on which are seven questions regarding churchwork has been signed by Dwight E. Potter, pastor of the Union Congregational Church. The purpose is to get the opinion of different people on the subject.

The questions are as follows: "About what per cent of workingmen do not attend church?" Why?

"What would you suggest that the men and the church may do together?" If wise plans were adopted would them help to make the church better and more useful?

"How far are churches, parsons and members to blame?"

"Is there interdenominational and prejudicial on both sides? Why?"

"What would you suggest that the men and the church may do together?" If wise plans were adopted would them help to make the church better and more useful?

"Why are there more women than men in church?"

RICH GOLD FIND IN AUSTRALIA.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 5.—A newspaper received here today from Sydney, N. S. W., says a sensational gold discovery has been made at Long Flat near Gundagai, N. S. W. Pieces of gold covered with oxide of iron have been found weighing up to three quarters of a pound Troy. Fully 2,000 ounces of gold were obtained. Half a prospecting dish of dirt taken out of a chisel panned out about 25 ounces of almost pure gold.

Gold still shows quite as good in the road drive, being apparently a seam of almost pure gold.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire
GEORGETOWN, Ky., Oct. 5.—When the Youtsey case was called today the list of witnesses that the Sheriff had been instructed to summon was called, but none answered, though the returns showed that all had been summoned. Mr. Crawford reported that the Sheriff of Knox county had made no response at all to the rule, and said that the defendant wished to await response, Judge Cantrell said that the defense had been given ample time to prepare for trial and must now proceed if the Commonwealth was ready. The Commonwealth insisted on trial, and the Judge ordered the regular panel of jurors to be called. Colonel Nelson moved to discharge the defendant because the indictment filed in this county was only a copy. The motion was overruled. A motion for postponement was then filed and overruled.

DEATH MYSTERY IS CLEARED UP.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 5.—The identity of the man who died quite suddenly on the car near Palo Alto on September 28th, while en route to San Francisco, was established today, when Michael Sullivan, 36 Tehama street, San Francisco, c. led at the Morgue and identified the body as that of his brother Jeremiah Sullivan, Michael Sullivan learned of the death of the man on the train through a newspaper clipping, shown him by friend. Failing to get any word from his brother, who had been at Paso Robles, and knowing him to have been in a critical condition, his suspicions were aroused and he came to San Jose this morning to investigate. The body was laid at the Morgue, where he identified it.

Jeremiah Sullivan was a well-to-do miner. He was without family and had recently returned from the Klondike, where he owned several claims, on account of ill-health. He had gone to Paso Robles to recuperate, but growing worse was returning to San Francisco to enter a hospital when he died.

FRIDAY..... OCTOBER 5, 1900

What with the coffee club and the sandwich containing the sugar, Oakland's new temperance organization is evidently going to make itself felt in the community.

Now that both wings of the local Republican County Central Committee have been brought together, the local machine seems to be equipped with the long desired facilities of a flying machine.

A Chicago man has found a giant dinosaur that he says has been dead a million years or more. As there is no way of telling whose backyard it strayed from, there should be no objection to permitting him to keep it.

Four hunters are said to have killed six hundred ducks on the Alameda marsh in one day this week. The presumption is that Galling guns were used by these alleged sportsmen. Individuals like these who don't want to give any other hunters a chance almost deserve being compelled to wear the feathers of the birds they massacre, with a little tar attachment.

Governor Roosevelt is as hard a fighter on the stump as he proved himself to be at San Juan. He met Bryan's criticism that he would better be at home fighting the ice trust than on the stump talking about it by a counter stroke that landed fairly on Mr. Bryan's solar plexus. Governor Roosevelt showed that he has waged unrelenting warfare on trusts of all kinds ever since he has occupied the gubernatorial chair, and that a Republican Attorney-General is even now proceeding against the ice trust under a severe law passed by a Republican Legislature and signed by Governor Roosevelt. He followed this up by asking Mr. Bryan to state whether, in case he should be elected President, he would pay the Nation's obligations in gold or silver. As Bryan has persistently refused to answer this question, Roosevelt will probably wait a long while for an unequivocal answer, but in the meantime the unprejudiced voters will draw their own conclusions as to the Nebraskan's candor and sincerity.

DEMOCRATIC DUNCES.

In an attempt to offset any sentiment that might be created by the sanguine forecast of the Republican National Committee, the Democrats have made themselves ridiculous. The figures given to the press by the Democratic National Executive Committee are enough to make even the proverbial cat laugh, and if they have been framed with the object of inspiring confidence in Bryanism they will not only fall short of the mark but they will do irreparable damage in their own ranks, for the intelligent members of the party, seeing the absurdity of the estimates, will at once conclude that men of poor judgment are in charge of their affairs.

To allow McKinley a total of only 88 votes displays a willful ignorance of existing political conditions. The sole States credited to him are Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont, while Michigan, Minnesota and New Jersey, comprising a total of 33 votes, are classified as doubtful. To Bryan is given all the rest of the country, including Republican strongholds such as Ohio, New York and Illinois, to say nothing of States like California and Indiana that it is reasonably certain will line up in the Republican column.

To better illustrate what poor politics it is for the Democrats to claim some of the Republican States they are crediting to Bryan, reference should be made to the popular vote in 1896 as well as to the electoral one. Illinois, for example, gave McKinley 607,320 votes as against 464,632 for Bryan; Maryland, 136,050 for McKinley to 104,735 for Bryan; New York, 810,838 for McKinley to 551,369 for Bryan; Ohio, 525,991 for McKinley to 477,494 for Bryan; Wisconsin, 268,135 for McKinley to 165,523 for Bryan. By what process of figuring they can possibly weave such overwhelming Republican majorities into winning votes for Bryan is beyond ordinary understanding, and the only conclusion that can be arrived at is that the Democratic National Committee is endeavoring to grossly deceive the public. But for the fact that States like Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut and the few others that have been permitted to stand to McKinley's credit go about two to one Republicans at every election they would doubtless have claimed them also and left McKinley nothing, and they might as well have done so as to have attempted the rest of the barefaced imposition they have endeavored to foist upon the public.

Publishing such estimates may be a Democratic idea of doing good politics, but to most people deception is a mighty poor means of vote-getting. The Republican forecast that prompted the Democratic declaration was a fair one, in that only those States were claimed that went for McKinley four years ago and those in which the conditions had so changed as to create the presumption that they are Republican now, whereas the Democrats have without right or reason put in their list States to which they have no claim whatever. However, there is no occasion to worry over what they have done, for when election day comes along and shows the utter absurdity of their figures it will simply make their defeat more pronounced.

THE CONSOLIDATION ISSUE.

The consolidation of Oakland with the contiguous cities and towns will undoubtedly ultimately result when through the growth of trade and population their interests become identical and mutual. This side of the bay is by its natural location and marine advantages the destined commercial center of the Pacific Coast. No one with an eye to practicality ever crosses the bay without wondering why a great city should have been founded upon a thumb of land difficult of access and with such limited transportation facilities, while on this side of the harbor every advantage exists for handling all the shipping that may ever seek this port. Yet it has now been suggested that Oakland should merge its identity into that of San Francisco and consolidate its political interests therewith. Such a proposition deserves recognition on account of its novelty, but it cannot find favor with the thousands of residents on this side of the bay who would have everything to lose by such an amalgamation without any corresponding benefits.

San Francisco, of course, would be a gainer by such a move. It would increase that city's population greatly and enlarge its taxable area. Oakland, being outvoted, would be reduced to the position of a political appendage to the greater city and would have little chance of receiving proper recognition from the ruling powers of the amalgamated community. The cities are too remote from each other to be effectively brought under one control and the project does not in any way bear the earmarks of possibility. That we might by such a consolidation gain a few manufacturers and big business houses would be more than offset by our loss of the shipping and other commercial interests which are gradually trending our way and will continue to increase and grow in volume if we preserve our own municipal identity and retain control of our own affairs.

What we do need in Oakland is a more harmonious spirit of progress and the arousing of an individual desire to advance our collective interests. With a spirit of civic patriotism intelligently at work and well directed we can make our own way and soon place this city in a position where it must attract the interest and attention of those who seek to participate in the Oriental trade, and those who indirectly seek to prosper through this commerce. Oakland wants no consolidation with San Francisco. Its own future is too bright with promise for any sophistry of argument to move the people on this side of the harbor to consent to any loss of their own identity, and the project has no merit to entitle it to even passing consideration.

Don't Hesitate.

There is just one thing to use if your stomach is "out of order" and that "one thing" is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This proposition is that you want a prompt cure and a lasting cure. That is why the "Discovery" is recommended as the one thing for your condition. It cures promptly, perfectly and permanently, diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure. It has completely cured ninety-eight per cent. of all those who have given it a fair and faithful trial.

"About ten years ago I became ill with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 335 Walnut Street, "and it got so bad that I had to lay off quite often two and three days in succession. I have never been able to get back to work again. I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint and advised the use of your Golden Medical Discovery. I took it and have never had a relapse. These medicines I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get well again in a few weeks. I have now lost a day this summer on account of my stomach, feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the liver.

HARVEST HYMN.

Lord in the Harvest! Thee we hail! Thine ancient promise doth not fail; Thy valyng scythes have their round; With golden sheaf all our years are crowned.

Our harvest day!

Oh, for our hearts in time to be found!

If Spring doth wake the song of mirth, If Summer bring the ripening earth, When Winter sweeps the naked plain, Or Autumn tells the rip'd grain,

Still do we sing!

To Thee, our King! Through all their changes Thou dost reign.

But chiefly when Thy liberal hand Scatterst new plenty o'er the land, When sound of music fills the air, As when the sun is hidden in the ground.

We, too, will raise Our hymn of praise.

For we, The common bounies share.

Lord of the Harvest! All is Thine!

The rates that fall, the stars that shine, The red o'er hidden in the ground,

The skill that makes our fruits abound;

New, every year,

The gifts that from our lips shall sound.

AMERICA'S WOMEN EDUCATORS.

There is no better known representative of the kindergarten movement in America than Miss Lucy Whedon of Boston, and no woman has done more to develop the work of the kindergarten during the past twenty years. She has given her life to this cause with unfailing zeal and steadfastness of purpose, and has won some of her best ideals realized in her own efforts.

She has delivered lectures in most of the States of the Union, and has for years been at the head of a training school for kindergartners.

She has recently established a college course for young women which is planned to include the elements of education in the various departments of the kindergarten, and to provide for the harmonious training of head, hand and heart.

Graduates from this course are admitted to the kindergarten normal class.

It is desired that all students of this course come with child life offered.

Miss Whedon is a member of the International Kindergarten Union, an organization of commanding influence.

She is a member of the committee having in charge the educational department of Boston's Twentieth Century Club, a club that has done much for the dissemination of knowledge in Boston, and in other organizations in that city.

Winter Petticoats

That is the time when the Company's property?" Hayne fired off his customary objection. Judge Hart said the question was unnecessary because the witness had previously stated that he had no right to repeat what he had said in his deposition of the property.

"Witness said he did not call for the engineering report."

"Did you call for anything other than the things specified in the order of inspection?"

"Not that I am aware of."

"So far as the real estate is concerned, and that is what we are inquiring about, did you call for anything else, re- specting the property?"

"I again object to your calling this witness," said Mr. Moore.

"I submit," said Mr. Moore, "that we are entitled to cross-examine this witness without interruption. We don't want the witness to say that he has no right to repeat what he has said in his deposition converted to him by side remarks into a fact in the form of objections."

"The Congress also characterizes the Armenian massacres as the most odious deed of recent times, and expresses the hope that the intervention of the civilized world will force the government to find a radical solution."

"Under the restrictions imposed upon me, I do not know how to answer that question. If you will tell me what you mean by 'description' I will answer."

"What does the word 'description' mean?"

"What did you understand it to mean?"

"Hayne was on his feet protesting that McClellan should explain what he meant by 'description.'

AN EXCITED WITNESS.

"This witness knows perfectly well what I mean by 'description.' He does not want to answer because he is afraid that it will not be such an answer as is desired to help the side of the case he is employed on."

"I won't allow any man to accuse me of any such thing," shouted Van Bokkeleyn, who is a somewhat mild looking old gentleman ordinarily. No attorney shall accuse me of anything of the kind. I won't allow any man to do that."

Witness showed a disposition to scream out of his chair in his rage, but was checked out by an admonition from the judge.

"Did you ever ask for any information of which would enable you to locate the company's property?"

"No, I offer this back in evidence," said McClellan. "Witness has identified this book. He asked for certain information, and this book was submitted to him for examination. He did not tell the company's officers to explain it or to give him any information by which he might understand it. We have a right to show this book contains the information sought. If there was only one other book containing the information it rests upon the other side to show it. They have not shown it. They have not shown that there is any such book, and it is their only right to exhibit just what the witness was shown when he made his demand, and to prove that an examination of this book was a complete compilation with his demand."

Hayne concluded that the plaintiff could not prove their case on cross-examination. Such was the rule in English Courts, but was not the practice in American Courts.

"You contend that we shall prove your case, but deny our right to prove our own case," retorted Moore.

"I protest against this waste of time on trivialities and technicalities," said Moore. "We want to try this case, but every attempt to go into the issues themselves, we are met with technical objections."

A movement has been started by the Alameda County Christian Defense Union to have the Oakland Postoffice closed all day Sunday. Last Sunday a census was taken of those who apply for their mail at the office on the seventh day and it was found that seven-tenths of those who called were church-going people. It was found that only twelve business men called at the office during the day for their letters.

Postmaster Pringle says he will follow the motions of the public opinion in the matter.

"Of course, the employees of the Postoffice are very much to be blamed," said Mr. Pringle, "but the Postmaster, they are no more fond of working on that day than are other men. The Postoffice, however, is to a great extent the servant of the people. Whether or not the office shall be open on Sunday is a question for its patrons to determine."

Death of Mrs. F. A. Nicol.

Mrs. Mary A. Nicol, aged 45 years, died at her home at Thirteenth and McWayne streets, yesterday morning. Mrs. Nicol was a native of England and the mother of Mrs. Emily G. McWilliams, Misses Isobel, Christian and Lottie, and of Charles W. Nicol.

tions of every sort. Counsel's contention goes to the right of trial itself. In effect he is trying to prevent a trial, but endeavoring to exclude all evidence showing that the plaintiff owns property. If it can prove no property it can prove no value. Hence no case. No matter what occurred the title deeds of property can be introduced to show ownership. Unless there was some inherent vice in the titles or were irregular in some important particular or were the subject of some dispute affecting their validity they had been directly refused."

As Moore paused Hayne started in to argue, but the former said:

"Be patient, Judge, till I am through."

"I must be patient when Mr. Moore speaks," replied Hayne.

"I suppose you have spoken a thousand words here to over ten I have uttered," retorted Moore.

"That is a small proposition for Judge Hayne," added McClellan.

Judge Hart ruled that the book could be admitted for the purposes of this inquiry. He said witness had testified that he demanded to inspect an account book containing a description of the Company's property. He was shown this book and no other. Counsel have a right to show that this book contained the information sought. The book was then turned over.

"After this book was exhibited did you request to see any deeds?"

"I asked for a record of the purchase of the real estate."

"You wanted to know what it cost?"

"I wish to show that this witness was compelled to give up his right to inspect the account book and to accept the record of the purchase of the real estate."

"I asked for a record of the purchase of the real estate."

"I asked for a record of the purchase of the real estate."

LIFE CRUSHED OUT BY LOADED WAGON

Joe Petro's Head Crushed to Pulp and William Silva Injured.

Manuel, the 5-year-old son of Joseph Petro of 225 Second street, met with a shocking death shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The little boy's head was crushed to a pulp beneath the wheels of a heavily loaded lumber wagon.

A companion named William Silva, with whom the lad had been playing, narrowly escaped a similar fate. As it was, the wheels of the wagon grazed his back, lacerating it in a most painful manner.

The wagon was driven by Anthony Murphy, who has surrendered himself to the police.

SCENE OF ACCIDENT.

The accident happened at the corner of Fourth and Alice streets.

Murphy, who is an employee of the Humpoldt Lumber Company, was driving up Alice street with a large load of lumber when he noticed the Petro boy and a companion standing on the sidewalk.

As he got opposite to them they started to run toward his wagon, but he warned them away and apparently they stopped.

As soon as Murphy turned his head, however, the boys continued their efforts to steal a ride.

Just as the driver turned into Fourth street his attention was attracted by a scream.

REVOLT AMONG THE METHODISTS.

Pastors and Laymen Against Presiding Elders.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Ministers and laymen united in the upholding of Methodist traditions in the second day's session of the Rock River conference. Protest was made against the reappointment of preëminent elders who have served out their six-year terms was the burden of a dozen speeches. The launching of a movement to agitate the question of lay representation in annual conferences was the feature of the mass meeting of laymen.

The Rev. John M. Axel of Freeport led the assault upon the elders. To 200 clergymen gathered to organize the Rock River Pastors' Association Dr. Axel declared that an archbishop had no place in the Methodist Church, and was approved in a great outburst of applause.

"One set of men to be presiding elders eternally," he demanded.

"We are here to protest against unfair treatment. I believe the time has come when the pastors should have something to say in the operation of the great machine of our church."

Dr. Axel's address was applauded.

A committee on resolutions appointed by the Pastors' Association will report on the subject.

Only one set of resolutions had been handed to the committee last night. It "requests" Bishop Mind "not to appoint or re-appoint any man to a preëminent office in the Rock River conference who has served six years or has refused to accept a pastorate within six years."

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Navy Department has detached the Island of Guam from the Asiatic station, making it an independent naval establishment. It was found to be cumbersome to have the Guan reports go across the Pacific to the commander of the Asiatic station before coming to Washington. GENERAL LAND OFFICE REPORT.

Large Increase in the Year's Work Due to Prosperity.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office just made public, shows a large increase in the current work of the office for the past year, due, the Commissioner says to the general stimulus given to all the industries of the country for a year past.

The total cash receipts of the Land Office for the past year amount to $149,758, an increase over the previous year of $3,922 and over the fiscal year 129 of $21,673.

There was a proportionate increase in the amount of land disposed of, the total this year amounting to 17,855.87 acres, an acre of 16,097.9 acres over the previous year.

The homestead entries for the year aggregated $1,854.16 acres, an increase of 7,882 acres over the previous year.

There has been also a large increase for the year in the number of land claims filed, which has been accounted for largely by the number of suspensions, notably in Colorado and Montana under rules made by the Secretary of the Interior. While there has been a diminution in the number of mineral land entries, in general, there has been an increase in the number of patents issued upon coal land entries.

Important work has been accomplished in the forestry division. Two of the existing forest reserves, the Preëst reserves in Arizona and the Big Horn in Wyoming, have been enlarged by 42,699 acres and 1,199 acres respectively. The Olympic forest reservation in Washington has been reduced by 1,923.50 acres in response to the urgent requests of the representative citizens and commercial bodies in that State on the ground that the reserve included a great deal of valuable agricultural land which had been dependent upon the homestead system.

One new reservation was created, that of Santa Ynez in Southern California, comprising 16,099 acres of land. The object of the reservation was to protect the watershed upon which a number of thriving communities depend for their water supply.

Temporary withdrawals have been made in a number of cases to insure them from disposal pending the necessary investigation prior to their appropriation for forest reserves or national parks. These include the Petrified Forest, withdrawn in Arizona, and the Mammoth Tree with withdrawal in California, an extension of the Yellowstone National Park with a view to further protecting the big game conserve there, the Wind Cave withdrawal in South Dakota and a number of other withdrawals in the forest division.

AMERICAN COAL HAS NO EQUAL.

Brings a Higher Price Than the British Product.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—In view of the efforts in Europe, resulting from the fall off of the English coal product with the consequent enhanced prices, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the State Department recently addressed instructions to United States Consuls at some of the more important ports abroad requesting them to indicate the prospects at their ports for the introduction of American coal. A preliminary report just published by the Bureau shows some startling results. With several important ports not yet heard from, it appears that almost without exception, the American product is rapidly entering the markets of the world, and in many places has overcome the British coal, being regarded as superior at every point. One of the most important contributions is that made by Consul Halsted at Birmingham, enclosing the results of a competitive test of American and British coal by the Metropolitan Gas Company of London. The chairman of the company reported that American coal yielded 45.09 feet of gas per ton against 39.62 in the English coal, while the coke was plentiful and good. Consequently, though the American coal was quoted higher than English coal, it was actually cheaper. It had been found also that the American coal was superior to the Australian coal. There is talk of building 10,000 tons coils for the express purpose of bringing American coal to the Mediterranean, because the freight rates at present make the price of the American coal higher than it should be.

Consul General Osborne at London, in commenting upon the arrival of a cargo of American coal there, predicts that during the coming winter coal will rise from $12.15 to $13.30 per ton, or more than double the ordinary winter price.

MURDERER'S LEGAL FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The appeal of Dr. Samuel F. Kennedy, the New York City dentist, convicted of the murder of Emeline C. Reynolds, better known as "Dolly" Reynolds, is being argued before the Court of Appeals. William W. Canfield and Robert M. Moore asked the court to grant a new trial on the grounds of error in the first trial and the newly discovered evidence.

The people's case, counsel argued, was devoid of motive and the contention of the District Attorney that Kennedy killed the woman in order to obtain a $15,000 check, which was found on her person after the murder, and that the bludgeon which was used for the crime was prepared at New York, S. L. and carried to New York city, were inconclusive.

There was nothing to show that Kennedy had any acquaintance with "Dolly" Reynolds other than a casual business acquaintance.

Assistant District Attorney Barber, who argued for the people, maintained that the killing of the Reynolds woman was premeditated and deliberately carried out. "Dolly" Reynolds was found with her skull crushed in a room at the Grand Hotel in New York city, on the morning of August 15, 1900, suspicious feet not upon Dr. Kennedy, who was last seen in her company at the hotel, and his arrest and conviction followed. He was sentenced by Justice Williams to be electrocuted at Sing Sing prison on the week beginning May 22.

INTERESTING, IF TRUE.

You Can Try It for Yourself and Prove It.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 2,000 grains of meat, eggs or other protein food, and this claim has been proven by actual experiment, which anyone can perform for himself in the following manner: Cut a hard boiled egg into very small pieces, as it would be if macerated, place the egg and two or three of the tablets in a bottle or jar containing warm water heated to 50 degrees (the temperature of the body) and keep it at this temperature for three and one-half hours, at the end of which time the egg will be completely digested as it would have been in the healthy stomach of a hungry boy.

The point of this experiment is that what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do to the egg in the bottle will do to the egg or meat in the stomach, and nothing else will result in vigorous action of the digestive organs.

Even a little child can take Stuart's Tablets with entire benefit if its digestion is weak, and they will easily and effectively digest meat and vegetables.
